
Smudging in progress

Smudging is a ceremonial way to cleanse a person, place, or an object of negative energies or influences. It is also an effective method for energizing or blessing, and to invoke our spirit. Many Indigenous cultures in Turtle Island (North America) have used sacred smoke made from medicinal plants for a spiritual cleansing of themselves and their surroundings since time immemorial

