This course will introduce you to thinking and researching sociologically. Topics include questioning everyday ideas (vs sociological thought), inequalities (race, gender, social class, etc.), and modern life. This is a reading-based course, so come to class having read the assigned texts.

Required Reading: SOC101: Foundations of Sociology. Dr. Patricia Cormack. Canadian Scholars Press.

Evaluation:

You are allowed to bring in a one “cheat sheet” for your quizzes and exams with any information you like on it. I will hand out an index card for you to use as your cheat sheet. You may either write on it or paste your computer notes on it. Your six quizzes cover only the assigned reading since your previous quiz. The final exam will cover all lecture and reading material.

Part of your grade is based on class participation. You will be divided into working groups. Please sit with your group each class. Groups will be asked to begin class discussion of the day’s assigned reading. On moodle you will find a list of general questions to help you with your reading and your group responses.

Grade Breakdown:

- Quizzes* 5 x 10 = 40 points
- Class participation** - 10 points
- Final exam - 40 points

*Missed quizzes cannot be taken. Your grade and will be prorated to account for missed quizzes.

** If you miss more than 5 classes you will forfeit your participation grade. You may write an essay to make up for the participation grade. If you would like to do this, please come to see me about making this arrangement before classes end.

“Everyone learns more effectively in a respectful, safe and equitable learning environment, free from discrimination and harassment. I invite you to work with me to create a classroom space – both real and virtual – that fosters and promotes values of human dignity, equity, non-discrimination and respect for diversity. Please feel free to talk with me about your questions or concerns about equity in our classroom or in the STFX community in general. If I cannot answer your questions or help you address your concerns, I encourage you to talk to the Chair/Coordinator of the Department/Program or the Human Rights and Equity Advisor. Please note that a Human Rights and Equity Advisor will soon be appointed. In the meantime, students, faculty, or staff may also contact the Director of Human Resources at hr@stfx.ca or the Office of the AVP&P”.
