

St. Francis Xavier University
Department of Sociology

Sociology 101.12
Fall, 2017

Dr. David Lynes
Rm. 9C Annex

Foundations of Sociology

This course will provide an overview of what it means to study people and society from a variety of sociological perspectives. The first part of the course traces the development of these perspectives along with the related methods sociologists use to study society. From here, the sociological concerns with Culture, Society, everyday social Interaction, and a variety of Social Institutions will provide the background for a review of the more substantive areas of sociological investigation which will be taken up in the Sociology 102 Introductory sections offered next term.

Upon completion of the course, you should have a thorough understanding of how Sociology refers to and depends upon specifically sociological perspectives, which will be shown to be distinct from, while still interested in, related disciplines that are also concerned with the human condition (Psychology, Philosophy, Anthropology, etc.). You should also appreciate to what extent sociological practice is based on these perspectives and the range of issues and concerns it studies. Finally you will understand – and hopefully be influenced by – the nature of the sociological commitment to encouraging a well informed, critically aware and humanely concerned citizenry.

Course Readings

There is no one textbook for this course. Instead, a series of readings from a range of authors will be listed and made available through the course Moodle site. These readings will be assigned and posted as the course progresses.

Evaluation

Mid-Term Test -----	20%
Term Assignment -----	25%
In-class Exercises -----	15%
Participation -----	10%
Final Exam -----	30%

	100%

Important Dates: The Mid-Term Test will be held on Thursday, October 12th, 2017. The Due Date for the Term Assignment is Thursday, November 9th 2017. The Final examination will be held during the Christmas exam period, on a the day assigned by the Registrar's Office. This date should be available by the end of the first week in October. Note: Be sure to consult the distributed guidelines for the term assignment before you begin writing.

Attendance, Plagiarism, Academic Dishonesty

Regular class attendance is important and expected of everyone enrolled in the course. Please be sure you are familiar with the regulations on course attendance and withdrawal

Regular class attendance is important and expected of everyone enrolled in the course. Please be sure you are familiar with the regulations on course attendance and withdrawal outlined on page 12 of the University Calendar. Note also that plagiarism and academic dishonesty are considered very serious academic offenses which can seriously and permanently impact your academic record and career. What constitutes such offenses and how they will be responded to is outlined on page 13 of the University Calendar.

Office Hours

My office is in the Annex, Rm 9-C (lower floor, towards Lane Hall). Office hours are as follows:

Monday	2:30 to 4:15
Wednesday	1:00 to 3:30

There will be times when I am unable to be in the office during the posted office hours due to committee and department meetings or other unforeseen appointments and meetings. If this happens, please send a message and I will get back to you as soon as possible. Other times can be arranged by appointment if you are unable to make those listed. You can also contact me through e-mail to arrange a meeting or to ask questions.

E-mail: <dlynes@stfx.ca>
Phone: 867-3802

Feel free to drop in to discuss any aspect of the course or the Sociology program more generally at any time during the term

Please note: The materials for Soc 101.12 at StFX are the property of the instructor, unless stated otherwise by the instructor. Online posting or selling this material to third parties for distribution without permission is subject to Canadian Copyright law and is strictly prohibited.

Everyone learns more effectively in a respectful, safe, and equitable learning environment free from discrimination or harassment. I invite you to work with me to create a classroom space that fosters and promotes values of human dignity, equity, non-discrimination and respect for diversity. These values and practices are in accord with the StFX Discrimination and Harassment Policy which can be found at <http://www.mystfx.ca/campus/stu-serv/equity/>. Please feel free to discuss with me any questions or concerns you have about equity in our classroom or in the StFX community. If I cannot answer your questions or help you address your concerns, I encourage you to talk to the Chair/Coordinator of the Department/Program or the Human Rights and Equity Advisor.